

MATH AUTOBIOGRAPHICAL LECTURE SERIES

Kevin Grady

Purdue University

Wednesday, April 6, 2016

5:30PM - 6:30PM

127 Hayes-Healy Hall

Notre Dame Class of 2012 graduate Kevin Grady returns to Notre Dame to give the third ever Math Autobiographical Lecture Series lecture. Kevin recently graduated in 2012 from the math program at Notre Dame. He is currently pursuing a graduate degree in Meteorology at Purdue University. Learn about Kevin's experience here at Notre Dame and how his ND math degree had inspired him to study meteorology, how his mathematical background has benefited him in his studies, and the amazing things he intends to accomplish later in his career!

Complimentary pizza and drinks will be served after the lecture.
