The Law School offers a wide range of courses touching on many areas of legal scholarship and training. We provide seven programs of study for students who wish to specialize in particular legal fields and issues:

- Business Law
- Criminal Law
- Environmental Law
- Global Law
- Intellectual Property & Technology Law
- Law, Ethics & Public Policy
- Public Law

INTERDISCIPLINARY AREAS OF STUDIES INCLUDE

- Church, State & Society
- Constitutional Structure
- Law & Economics
- The Research Program on Law & Market Behavior (ND LAMB)

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING

Notre Dame Law School offers several clinics and experiential learning opportunities, allowing students to craft a learning experience that meets their goals and develops their legal skills for future employment. Clinics, externships (including the Notre Dame Law in Chicago and D.C. programs), lawyering skills and immersion courses, and pro bono opportunities allow students to gain ample hands-on experience. Students are also able to gain experience by participating in one of our 30 student organizations and four journals, including Law Review.
