Charles Darwin, The Descent of Man: The Concise Edition, ed. Carl Zimmer (Plume/Penguin)

Requirements: There will be three components in the computation of your final grade for the course:

(1) Discussion Papers (60 %). Each student will be required to submit three discussion papers, each a minimum of five pages (1,500 words), on topics to be worked out in consultation with the instructor. Each of the three discussion papers will be worth 20 % of the final course grade. Papers will be graded on the basis of both content and mechanics, the latter counting for approximately 20% of the grade on each paper.

(2) Journals (25 %). You will be required to keep a journal to be used primarily to record your critical reactions to the assigned readings. At a minimum, you should write a one-page (minimum 300 words) critical response to each reading assignment, though you are encouraged to write more, taking advantage of this opportunity to record your thoughts on any topic related to the course and the readings. Journal entries will be graded on a random, unannounced basis several times over the course of the semester. In addition, the entire journal will be checked regularly to be sure that all required entries are included. You will submit your journal entries through the Sakai page for this course, creating a “blog” entry for each of the reading assignments. (Be sure to remember to check the option “Only site administrators and I can see this entry” and to “publish” your entry.) You will be graded rigorously on the extent to which you use your journal, the minimum of one page (300 words) per reading being strictly enforced. But it will be the quality of thinking manifest in your journal that will chiefly determine your grade.

(3) Class Participation (15 %). The remaining fifteen percent of your final grade will be determined on the basis of the quality and extent of your enthusiastic and constructive participation in class discussion.

One-minute Papers: Every class session will end a few minutes early to permit you to write a so-called “one-minute paper,” in which you will write no more than two- or three-sentence answers to two questions: (a) What was the most important point covered in today’s class? (b) What issue or question was left most unclear in your mind at the end of today’s class? These one-minute papers will be required of every student at the end of every class session and will be collected at the end of class, but they will not be graded.

Attendance: No more than two unexcused absences will be permitted during the semester; for every additional unexcused absence, the student’s final course grade will be reduced by one step on a plus/minus basis. Thus, for example, for a student with three unexcused absences, a final grade of B+ becomes a B, and for a student with four unexcused absences, a final grade of B becomes a C+. A student more than fifteen minutes late for class is assumed to be absent. If you must miss a class for any reason, be sure to let me know beforehand, or as soon after the fact as possible, so as to enable me to determine whether or not to excuse the absence. I promise to be generous in allowing excused absences for legitimate purposes.
