The Mishra Brothers are among the foremost Hindusthani (North Indian) classical vocalists in India today. They follow the 300 year old Benares gharana or tradition and sing in the jugalbandi (or duet) style. Blending powerful and expressive voices, their performances provide a methodical treatment of ragas with exquisite ornamentation and intricate and dazzling melodic patterns. They have performed all over the world. They have received numerous awards, including the Government of India's Padma Bhushan in 2007, the Sangeet Natak Akademi Award in 1998, the Gandharva National Award in 1994-1995 and the National Tansen Samman in 2011-2012 We are very lucky to have them perform at the University of Notre Dame yet again.
