

PHIL 83104: Second short paper

Due: Tuesday, November 29

Your second short paper should be a maximum of 2500 words in length. Ideally, this paper should be part of your planned term paper. As such, this short paper need not be self-contained; it should be an argument which is a part of the overall argument of your term paper. You may, if you wish, include a one or two line “preface” in which you say what you plan to argue for, and, briefly, how this fits into your term paper. You may, if you wish, also include a one or two line “afterword” which says where you will take the argument from there.

The point of this assignment is for you to focus on writing a concise, clear argument.

As before, I am happy to read drafts of these papers, or to discuss them with you either in person or by email. Please hand the papers in by sending them to me as email attachments.
