EDITOR’S FOREWORD

In 1983 I compiled a “Selected Bibliography, Holy Cross in the U.S.A.,” under the direction of Fr. Jim Connelly, C.S.C. That document was then housed in the library collection of the University of Notre Dame, as well as other archives and libraries of Holy Cross institutions. More than twenty years later the time seemed right to update and expand that initial work, and this 2006 edition of the bibliography represents the fruit of that effort.

The lion’s share of the work on this edition was done by my Graduate Assistant, Sean Agniel (M.Div. ’07), who deserves our hearty collective thanks for the care and thoroughness with which he approached the task. Thanks as well to my G.A. Marty Roers (M.Div. ’08) for additions and corrections made in 2007. We are also indebted to Jackie Dougherty of the Indiana Province Archives, who endeavored to update the original work in the early 1990s. Finally, thanks to the archivists of several Holy Cross provinces and congregations for their cooperation.

The work before you has some limitations and idiosyncrasies. For one, in undertaking the revision our intention was to focus only on published works pertaining to any aspect of the history of the Holy Cross family of congregations and related institutions and apostolates. In this regard I have some confidence that the bibliography is as complete as possible. But, in addition, this bibliography does include a number of other materials suggested by various sources, e.g. typed manuscripts, dissertations, unpublished addresses etc., and no claims to comprehensiveness are made for these. Of particular note among these unpublished materials are the papers presented at the annual Holy Cross History Conferences, begun in 1982 by Jim Connelly, C.S.C. These papers are included here by category; a complete year-by-year index is online at <http://www.nd.edu/~mconnors/25years-HCHistory.pdf>. The repository for the conference papers is the Archives of the Sisters of the Holy Cross at St. Mary’s, Notre Dame, Indiana.

Secondly, there is the matter of the locations recorded for the various materials. Due to the widely varying conditions of community archives, these lists of locations are very incomplete. If the text indicates that a particular source is to be found in a particular archive, one may be reasonably sure that it will be found there. But the reverse is not true, i.e., if there is no indication that an archive holds that source, this does not indicate with certainty that it is not to be found there.

Note that an even more extensive bibliography (c. 1995, compiled by Jackie Dougherty) of sources related to the history of Holy Cross is available in hard copy from the Archives of the Sisters of the Holy Cross at St. Mary’s, Notre Dame, Indiana. (Contact Sr. Kathryn Callahan, CSC, at <kcallahan@cscsisters.org>.) Composed of bibliographies assembled separately by the Marianite Sisters of Holy Cross, the Sisters of the Holy Cross of Indiana, the Sisters of Holy Cross of Canada, and the U.S. and Canadian provinces of the men’s societies, that work includes a large number of unpublished personal and community materials.
Readers, researchers and archivists are warmly encouraged to send me additions, corrections and suggestions for this work, which I will try to update periodically. I hope this may prove useful in the larger project of furthering our understanding of Holy Cross history.
