

Scanning Electrochemical Microscope (SECM)

Catalytic activity – material property of interest for our fuel cell research is determined with a scanning electrochemical microscope

