The 1916 Irish Rebellion
Bríona Nic Dhiarmada

Foreword by Mary McAleese

The 1916 Irish Rebellion by Bríona Nic Dhiarmada is the companion volume to a three-part documentary series, narrated by Liam Neeson, to be broadcast worldwide in 2016. The book is a stunning large-format collection of over 200 photographs and illustrations that bring to life the events during the Irish Rising when Irish rebel leaders and their followers staged an armed uprising in the city of Dublin in an attempt to overthrow British rule and create an autonomous Irish republic. Nic Dhiarmada includes an historical narrative and a rich selection of sidebar quotations from contemporary documents, prisoners’ statements, and other eyewitness accounts to capture the experiences of nationalists and unionists, Irish rebels and British soldiers, and Irish Americans during the turbulent events of Easter Week, 1916. The book also uncovers the untold story of the central role Irish Americans played in the lead-up to the rebellion and its aftermath and places these events in their proper historical, political, and cultural context as the precursor to an independent Irish state and the disintegration of colonial empires worldwide.

1. ISBN 978-0-268-03614-0 • 240 pages • $45.00 cl
March 2016 publication

Race and Immigration in the New Ireland
Edited by Julieann Veronica Ulin, Heather Edwards, and Sean O’Brien

“[A] strong collection of essays entering, if not starting, a pertinent conversation about the changing demographics of Ireland and the post-Celtic Tiger immigrant struggles. The landscape of Ireland has changed dramatically over the last two decades and Race and Immigration in the New Ireland provides an informative and insightful introduction as to how Ireland and Irish identity can be shaped in the years ahead.”
—New Hibernia Review

“This wide-ranging collection of critical voices on the question of migration to Ireland extends the compass of Irish Studies to assess how culture and the state create and respond to social change in the evolving context of global migration. . . . [T]he title Race Immigration and the New Ireland reflects a continuing and vital undertow of change due to Ireland’s most recent experience of ethnic demographic change through inward migration.”
—Canadian Journal of Irish Studies

2. ISBN 978-0-268-02777-3 • 248 pages • $35.00 pa / SALE $25.00 •

Domestic shipping is always FREE for orders placed through our website.
The Eucharist in Pre-Norman Ireland
Neil Xavier O’Donoghue
“In this work . . . O’Donoghue has rendered an immense service to students of early Irish church history and its liturgy. . . . This is an excellent work, and sure to become a classic in the study of Irish liturgy and as a background to such works as the Stowe Tract on the Mass.” —Ecclesiastical History

“In preparing this study O’Donoghue has surveyed a vast array of primary and secondary sources—not only in the area of early Irish studies, but also in those of church history and liturgiology in general. For this reason alone the book will be welcomed by readers in many disciplines.” —American Historical Review
3. ISBN 978-0-268-03732-1 • 384 pages • $48.00 pa / SALE $35.00 •

Human Encumbrances
Political Violence and the Great Irish Famine
David P. Nally
“Nally demonstrates how Ireland was used as a ‘laboratory of modernity’ by the moral conscience of early Victorian philanthropists and laissez-faire economists. . . . The strength of this book is in its in-depth use of a wide variety of primary sources, which provides a display of thorough scholarly work. . . . [N]ot only a ‘must read’ for human geographers, but also for anyone with an interest in tracing inhumanity within a society.” —Irish Geography

“[S]ophisticated and theoretically informed . . . Nally’s book should be hailed as a highly innovative new contribution to the study of the Famine . . . . The main strength of Nally’s book, however, lies in its theoretical underpinnings: Human Encumbrances is almost unique in its rigorous and systematic use of a sophisticated poststructuralist theoretical framework in its effort to make sense of the Famine and disentangle the web of political and social discourses that enabled it to happen.” —Irish University Review

“This book should be read by every human geographer, indeed it should be read by anyone who cares at all about the reach of the colonial state, the cultivation of inhumanity or just about dedicated and painstaking scholarship.” —Environment and Planning D: Society and Space
4. ISBN 978-0-268-03608-9 • 368 pages • $38.00 pa / SALE $25.00

e-books are available in the following formats: Adobe Digital PDF, ePUB, Kindle, and Nook. Please visit our website to learn more about e-books at: undpress.nd.edu/ebooks.
Ireland’s Magdalen Laundries and the Nation’s Architecture of Containment
James M. Smith

Winner of the 2007 Donald Murphy Prize for a Distinguished First Book from the American Conference for Irish Studies

“Ireland’s Magdalen Laundries adds a vital strand to the emerging narratives of the laundries. In addition to carefully documenting available material from State archives, Smith also explores contemporary cultural representations of the laundries, from the film, The Magdalen Sisters, to art projects, such as those by Diane Fenster and Gerard Mannix Flynn, whose Far Cry Productions has brought Smith to Limerick for a lecture on the book.”
—The Irish Times

“This richly argued and impeccably researched study focuses on ten Magdalen laundries that operated in Ireland between 1922 and 1996. . . . As an admirably interdisciplinary work that treats the history of the laundries alongside their representation in recent culture, Smith also seeks to draw attention to a very painful aspect of contemporary Irish history. This is an important work that deserves wide reading.” —Choice
5. ISBN 978-0-268-04127-4 • 312 pages • $28.00 pa / SALE $20.00

Foreign Affections
Essays on Edmund Burke
Seamus Deane

“This volume is a fascinating excursion into the history of ideas with Burke as the centerpiece, and Deane as routier, decoding, translating, and interpreting. The first reading calls for a second, and the second dictates a prominent place on the bookshelf, especially for those disposed to return to Edmund Burke as intellectual and moral guide to the complexities of the present.”
—University Bookman
6. ISBN 978-0-268-02570-0 • 216 pages • $30.00 pa / SALE $15.00

Notre Dame’s Happy Returns
Dublin, the Experience, the Game
Brian Ó Conchubhair and Susan Mullen Guibert
Photography by Matt Cashore

“The book offers an illustrated history of Dublin and an essay on Notre Dame’s growing presence in Ireland . . . A third section chronicles American football in Ireland, culminating in the September 1 game against Navy. ‘If you went to the game here’s a memoir,’ Ó Conchubhair says in describing the project. ‘If you didn’t go to the game, here’s what you missed.’” —Notre Dame Magazine

“Recounts the Fighting Irish’s springboard to the BCS National Championship Game, a September 1 whooping of Navy in the Emerald Isle Classic in Ireland.” —ESPN The Magazine
7. ISBN 978-0-268-02308-9 • 184 pages • $38.00 pa / SALE $18.00
Inventing Irish America
Generation, Class, and Ethnic Identity in a New England City, 1880–1928
Timothy J. Meagher

“Arguably one of the most important case studies since Oscar Handlin’s Boston’s Immigrants, 1790-1865. . . . Meagher breaks new ground by charting the complex interaction between this generational transition and the intergroup struggles for power, resources, and status that shaped and reshaped Irish-American identity.” —American Historical Review
8. ISBN 978-0-268-03154-1 • 544 pages • $29.00 pa / SALE $17.00

Ed Delahanty in the Emerald Age of Baseball
Jerrold Casway

“Historians of Irish-American life and baseball fans will find much to admire in Jerrold Casway’s approach to telling the story of Ed Delahanty, the ‘Irish kid from Cleveland’ who rubbed shoulders with and played against some of the greatest players of the late-nineteenth century dead-ball era.”
—New Hibernia Review
9. ISBN 978-0-268-02291-4 • 400 pages • $20.00 pa / SALE $10.00

Servants of the Poor
Teachers and Mobility in Ireland and Irish America
Janet Nolan
10. ISBN 978-0-268-03659-1 • 224 pages • $45.00 cl / SALE $20.00
11. ISBN 978-0-268-03660-7 • 224 pages • $18.00 pa / SALE $8.00

Ireland Now
Tales of Change from the Global Island
William Flanagan

Golden Ages and Barbarous Nations
Antiquarian Debate and Cultural Politics in Ireland, c.1750–1800
Clare O’Halloran
13. ISBN 978-0-268-03721-5 • 280 pages • $30.00 pa / SALE $10.00

Paul Cullen, John Henry Newman, and the Catholic University of Ireland, 1845–1865
Colin Barr
14. ISBN 978-0-268-03878-6 • 304 pages • $32.00 pa / SALE $10.00

Domestic shipping is always FREE for orders placed through our website.
The Shamrock and the Cross
Irish American Novelists Shape American Catholicism
Eileen P. Sullivan

In The Shamrock and the Cross: Irish American Novelists Shape American Catholicism, Eileen P. Sullivan traces changes in nineteenth-century American Catholic culture through a study of Catholic popular literature. Analyzing more than thirty novels spanning the period from the 1830s to the 1870s, Sullivan elucidates the ways in which Irish immigration, which transformed the American Catholic population and its institutions, also changed what it meant to be a Catholic in America.

“In The Shamrock and the Cross, Eileen P. Sullivan demonstrates a splendid command of her subject. Her book is required reading for anybody interested in the subject—an unduly neglected one—and, indeed, it deserves to be widely consulted as an essential work by anyone working on immigrant literature in American culture in general.” —J. Joseph Lee, Glucksman Professor of Irish Studies, New York University

15. ISBN 978-0-268-04152-6 • 360 pages • $30.00 pa

Seamus Heaney’s Regions
Richard Rankin Russell

Winner of the Robert Penn Warren-Cleanth Brooks Award for Outstanding Literary Criticism for 2014

“Richard Rankin Russell’s Seamus Heaney’s Regions is, by any standard, a major contribution to the field. Reading it, one becomes aware of how much Heaney commentary has matured over the last couple of decades. Russell’s study is liminal only in the sense that it presumes that the reader is familiar with the scholarship that has gone before; in itself, it represents the beginning of what is yet to come.” —New Hibernia Review

“This book is a sustained, well-drawn and nuanced argument that takes the region as an alembic through which to look awry at Heaney’s work. This book is structured like a Prezi presentation, as there is a chronology at work, but what Russell does is to offer an overview and then zoom in on a specific area to illustrate his point . . . a significant addition to the Heaney critical canon.” —Irish Studies Review

16. ISBN 978-0-268-04036-9 • 512 pages • $55.00 pa / SALE $48.00 •

Deep-Rooted Things
Empire and Nation in the Poetry and Drama of William Butler Yeats
Rob Doggett

29. ISBN 978-0-268-02583-0 • 200 pages • $25.00 pa / SALE $10.00
Poetry and Peace
Michael Longley, Seamus Heaney, and Northern Ireland
Richard Rankin Russell

Winner, 2011 South Central Modern Language Association Book Award
Winner, 2011 South Atlantic Modern Language Association Book Award

“Russell’s book is valuable in giving full attention to the work of Michael Longley, a poet of great range and variety who has been unjustly overlooked in some quarters. The book is additionally valuable in the way it takes poetry out of the ontologically abstract place it is assigned to by most literary criticism.”
—The New Criterion

“Richard Rankin Russell’s Poetry and Peace represents the best of the second wave of Heaney criticism and the rising tide of Longley criticism. . . . As a result of his far-reaching and adept research, insightful and informed analysis, and progressive thesis, Russell’s work is more than an excellent introduction to Longley’s poetry; it marks a new day in Longley studies.”
—James Joyce Literary Supplement

17. ISBN 978-0-268-04031-4 • 464 pages • $45.00 pa / SALE $27.00

Yeats and Afterwords
Edited by Marjorie Howes and Joseph Valente

“The book offers a dialectical Yeats, and indeed that word recurs throughout, as critical assumptions are trumped by the unresolved dialogue carried in his oeuvre. A stellar cast of latter-day Yeatsians strengthens the case for the resurgence of close reading in Yeats studies.”
—Times Literary Supplement

“Yeats and Afterwords . . . brings together twelve of the most prominent Yeats scholars working today to engage this question of Yeatsian temporality. . . . These essays reveal the incredible complexity of Yeats’s approaches to time and do so across his long career and through a variety of methodological approaches. Singing by turns of what is ‘past, passing, or to come,’ Yeats and Afterwords reveals temporality as the goading challenge and essential mechanism of Yeatsian poetics.”
—breac: A Digital Journal of Irish Studies

18. ISBN 978-0-268-01120-8 • 360 pages • $34.00 pa / SALE $24.00 • EB

Music, Postcolonialism, and Gender
The Construction of Irish National Identity, 1724–1874
Leith Davis

30. ISBN 978-0-268-02577-9 • 344 pages • $65.00 cl / SALE $15.00
31. ISBN 978-0-268-02578-6 • 344 pages • $30.00 pa / SALE $10.00

Ireland and Postcolonial Theory
Edited by Clare Carroll and Patricia King

32. ISBN 978-0-268-02287-7 • 280 pages • $25.00 pa / SALE $10.00
Scandal Work
James Joyce, the New Journalism, and the Home Rule Newspaper Wars
Margot Gayle Backus

“Margot Gayle Backus achieves an expert masterstroke in this study of fin de siècle newspaper scandals with application to works of James Joyce. With painstaking detail, she reports the Phoenix Park Murder, Dublin Castle, and Cleveland Street Scandals as well as information on the scandal figures Myles Joyce and Charles Dilke. . . . A major strength is the proliferation of Backus’s insightful ways of perceiving Joyce’s developmental theorizing about scandal and increasingly ingenious stylistic integration of those theories.” —Irish Literary Supplement

“. . . provides a richly detailed account of one of our most thoroughly studied modernist writers, which contributes something new to our understanding of his verbal art, not simply as an aesthetic form opposed to low or the commodified, but as an intricate example of communication and dissemination, a powerful, if elusive, instance of the art of mass persuasion.” —Journal of British Studies

Coire Sois, The Cauldron of Knowledge
A Companion to Early Irish Saga
Tomás Ó Cathasaigh
Edited by Matthieu Boyd

“This book is a credit to its editor, publisher, and (above all) to its author, whose perceptive interpretations and civilized discussions lead the reader to an appreciation of the breadth of early Irish saga literature. It is a book that can and should be read by all those who seek insight into the literature and culture of medieval Ireland.” —breac: A Digital Journal of Irish Studies

“Tomás Ó Cathasaigh has long been known for his sensitive and superbly nuanced readings of early Irish literature. This impeccably edited collection brings together his most important articles of the past thirty years, many of which appeared originally in anthologies and periodicals not always easy to find outside Ireland. Ó Cathasaigh’s deep learning and profound insights are evident on every page. This is truly a ‘must-have’ book both for specialists in Celtic and for all medievalists interested in vernacular culture and the intersection of native and Latin traditions.” —Robin Stacey, University of Washington

Riotous Performances
The Struggle for Hegemony in the Irish Theater, 1712–1784
Helen M. Burke

“...
Awake in America
On Irish American Poetry
Daniel Tobin
“Tobin’s careful meditation on Irish, Irish American, and American poetry is persuasive and pertinent precisely because the study has roots in learned enquiry and personal experience; as familiar with Wexford and Dublin as he is with Brooklyn and Boston, the author scans Irish and American poetry with precision and flair. This thought-provoking fusion of exegesis and reverie offers a particularly useful and enlivening frame of reference which Tobin uses to examine specifically Irish American senses of liberating doubleness, transatlanticism, roots/routes, and historical memory. . . . It is not only destined to become the pre-eminent study of Irish American poetry, but is set to make a vital contribution to Irish Studies and Irish American Studies as well.”
—Modern Language Review
21. ISBN 978-0-268-04237-0 • 488 pages • $38.00 pa / SALE $22.00

The Book of Irish American Poetry
From the Eighteenth Century to the Present
Edited by Daniel Tobin
“Daniel Tobin’s The Book of Irish American Poetry: From the Eighteenth Century to the Present means to be for poetry what Charles Fanning’s two great works, The Irish Voice in America and Exiles of Erin, do for Irish-American prose. That is, to be the last word. And certainly, what he has created with this encyclopedia collection is a compendium of works remarkable for its scope and depth.” —An Sionnach
22. ISBN 978-0-268-04230-1 • 976 pages • $65.00 cl / SALE $45.00

Writing the Irish West
Ecologies and Traditions
Eamonn Wall
“Wall’s text is useful for giving credit to several excellent Irish writers and for questioning many well-worn images of the Irish landscape. Overall, this text prepares the way for future ecocritical approaches to Irish literature and is a welcome addition to the field of Irish studies.” —Interdisciplinary Studies in Literature and Environment

“Wall’s Writing the Irish West undoubtedly addresses the first- and second-wave concerns of ecocriticism, while fostering a growing body of work in Irish studies devoted to understanding the complex relationship among nature, landscape, environment, and geography that exists within Ireland’s literary history.”
—Irish Studies Review
23. ISBN 978-0-268-04423-7 • 232 pages • $27.00 pa / SALE $18.00

e-books are available in the following formats: Adobe Digital PDF, ePUB, Kindle, and Nook. Please visit our website to learn more about e-books at: undpress.nd.edu/ebooks.
Public Works
Infrastructure, Irish Modernism, and the Postcolonial
Michael Rubenstein

Winner, 2010 Rhodes Prize for Best Book on Irish Literature, American Conference for Irish Studies
Winner of The Modernist Studies Association Book Prize for 2011

“Public Works is a refreshing addition to both modernist and postcolonial studies, and one that is almost certainly indicative of a new kind of scholarship in both fields. By taking the somewhat counterintuitive approach of linking works of engineering to works of literature, Rubenstein has produced a truly interdisciplinary study that provides valuable insights into some of Ireland’s most important literary figures.”
—Modern Fiction Studies

“In terms of its imaginative research, its theoretical risk-taking, and its startlingly original views of Irish modernity, Michael Rubenstein deserves to be included on this short list of infrastructure must-reads.”
—Irish University Review

24. ISBN 978-0-268-04030-7 • 272 pages • $32.00 pa / SALE $19.00

Finding Ireland
A Poet’s Explorations of Irish Literature and Culture
Richard Tillinghast

Winner of the Gold for the 2008 Book of the Year Award for Travel Essays, ForeWord Magazine

“Mr. Tillinghast conducts a series of critical investigations into Irish poetry, prose, playwriting and architecture through a miscellany of short pieces. Throughout he combines a convert’s zeal for Ireland’s finest cultural artifacts with an outsider’s fresh perspective—most strikingly arguing that Protestant literature is the critical locus in which to find Ireland itself. . . . Tillinghast is a wonderful writer with great depths of knowledge and powers of analysis.”
—The Wall Street Journal

25. ISBN 978-0-268-04232-5 • 296 pages • $25.00 pa / SALE $10.00

Private Histories
The Writing of Irish Americans, 1900–1935
Ron Ebest

26. ISBN 978-0-268-02771-1 • 336 pages • $58.00 cl / SALE $15.00
27. ISBN 978-0-268-02772-8 • 336 pages • $25.00 pa / SALE $10.00

Too Smart to Be Sentimental
Contemporary Irish American Women Writers
Edited by Sally Barr Ebest and Kathleen McInerney
Foreword by Caledonia Kearns

28. ISBN 978-0-268-02773-5 • 280 pages • $29.00 pa / SALE $10.00
The University of Notre Dame Press is pleased to offer our critically acclaimed Irish and Irish American Studies titles in this brochure. You can order books at the discounted price three different ways:

1. Complete the order form and mail to the address below, or FAX to 800.621.8476.
2. Visit our website at undpress.nd.edu and enter sale code NDIRISH16 in the shopping cart and click “update” for sale prices to apply. Free domestic shipping on orders placed through our website.
3. Call 800.621.2736 (Mention sale code NDIRISH16 for sale prices to apply.) Discount valid through June 30, 2016. Limited stock, so order early.

Check or Money Order enclosed (In U.S. currency only)
Charge to my: MasterCard_____ VISA_____ American Express_____ Discover_____ Account #:__________________________
Expiration Date:_____________________
Phone:______________________________
Signature:__________________________

SHIP ORDER TO:
Name:________________________________________
Address:______________________________________
City:__________________________________________
State:____________________ Zip:____________________

UNIVERSITY OF NOTRE DAME PRESS
Chicago Distribution Center, 11030 South Langley Avenue, Chicago, IL 60628
Tel: (800) 621-2736 or (773) 702-7000 • Fax: (800) 621-8476 or (773) 702-7212

E-books from the University of Notre Dame Press
e-books are available in the following formats: Adobe Digital PDF, ePUB, Kindle, and Nook. Please visit our website to learn more about e-books at: undpress.nd.edu/ebooks.