Contents

Acknowledgments vii
List of Illustrations viii
Preface xi

Introduction: Religion and Women in Peace and Conflict Studies 1
Monique Skidmore

1 Contesting Traditions: Religion and Violence in South Asia 7
Peter van der Veer

PART I
Between Subjects and Citizens: Women, the “Modern” State, and Violence in South Asia 25

2 The Citizen as Sexed: Women, Violence, and Reproduction 29
Veena Das

3 The Nuclear Fetish: Violence, Affect, and the Postcolonial State 50
Betty Joseph

4 Overcoming the Silent Archive in Bangladesh: Women Bearing Witness to Violence in the 1971 “Liberation” War 64
Yasmin Saikia

© 2007 University of Notre Dame Press
PART II
Resisting Terror: Women, Agency, and the Micropolitics of Sri Lankan Life 83

5 The Watch of Tamil Women: Women’s Acts in a Transitional Warscape 89
   Patricia Lawrence

6 Mothers and Wives of the Disappeared in Southern Sri Lanka: Fragmented Geographies of Moral Discomfort 117
   Alexandra Argenti-Pillen

7 The Other Body and the Body Politic: Contingency and Dissonance in Narratives of Violence 139
   Mangalika de Silva

PART III
Encounters with the Mysterious: Alternative Power Structures in Authoritarian Burma 165

8 Buddha’s Mother and the Billboard Queens: Moral Power in Contemporary Burma 171
   Monique Skidmore

9 With Patience We Can Endure 188
   Ingrid Jordt

10 To Marry a Man or a Spirit? Women, the Spirit Possession Cult, and Domination in Burma
    Bénédicte Brac de la Perrière 208

Bibliography 229
List of Contributors 248
Index 251