CONTENTS

Acknowledgments ix

1. Introduction: Labor Migration, Community, and Family across Borders 1
   An Overview of the Book 4
   Biographical Sketches of Xaripu Labor Migrants 10

2. Theoretical Perspectives on Labor Migration 27
   Structural Perspectives 29
   Transnational Perspectives 33
   Internal Colonialism 39
   Moving beyond Traditional Perspectives 44
   Interactive Colonization 45
   Methods 55

3. A Social-Historical Context of Xaripu’s Land Displacement and Labor Migration Experience 63
   Origins of Xaripus 64
   The Colonization of Michoacán (1521) 67
   Mexican Independence (1810) 72
   The Mexican Revolution (1910) 76
   Agrarian Reform in Mexico (1917–1930s) 82
   Bracero Period (1942–64) 87
   Post-Bracero Period (1964–1980s) 93
   Contextualizing Xaripus’ Labor Migration in the History of Colonialism 97
Contents

4. The Logic of Colonialism in Modern Labor Relations
   - Colonial Labor in the Fields 100
   - Labor Conditions in California Agriculture 104
   - Out of the Fields 125
   - Race, Gender, and Colonialism in Modern Labor Relations 142

5. Haciendo Comunidad across Borders
   - Contextualizing and Conceptualizing Xaripu Transnationalism 146
   - Beyond Social Interaction: Convivir 153
   - Convivencia 154
   - Nepantla 163
   - Empowerment 174
   - The Challenge of Building a Cross-Border Community: Global Inequalities 180

6. The Family across Borders: Exploring Gaps in Perception and Practice of Gender Empowerment
   - Perspectives on Gender Relations within Immigrant Families 184
   - ¿Quién Manda? (Who Has the Authority?) 191
   - The Division of Household Labor 199
   - The Impact of Transnationalism on Perceptions of Family and Gender Equity 203
   - The Complexities of Gender Empowerment within the Family across Borders 210

7. A Pueblo’s Search for Empowerment across Borders 213
   - Appendix 223
   - Notes 233
   - Works Cited 277
   - Index 309