Contents

Acknowledgments xi
Abbreviations xiii

Introduction 1
Rhétorique and Christian Identity in the Roman Empire
Sources and Method

Part One. A Classical Ideal

Chapter One. Classical Therapy: Its Origins, Tasks, and Methods 19
Psychagogy as a Cultural Ideal
Psychagogy in Its Classical Form

Chapter Two. Hellenistic Refinements 41
Cures for the Roman Soul
The Psychagogic Value of Ancient Texts

Part Two. Revising and Recontextualizing Classical Therapy

Chapter Three. Augustine’s Early Formation 65
An Ambitious Young Orator
Being Healed by Beautiful Words

© 2009 University of Notre Dame Press
Contents

Chapter Four. Christianizing Classical Therapy
Christian Philosophy and the Cure of Soul
Christ's Inner and Outer Rhetoric
88

Chapter Five. A New Context for Classical Therapy
Ordination Crisis
Controversies over the Cure of Soul
118

Chapter Six. Signs Eliciting Love
Exegetical Integration
Teaching the Uninstructed
139

Part Three. Augustine’s Homiletical Practice

Chapter Seven. The Christian Rhetor
Continuity amid Discontinuity
Critical Skills
Constructive Guidance
167

Chapter Eight. Therapy and Society
The Incarnate Word and Community
Conclusion
198

Notes
210

Bibliography
310

Index
338