

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	ix
A Light Shall Appear in the East: An Introduction to This Volume Jeremiah L. Alberg	1
PART 1. CATASTROPHE, APOCALYPSE, AND JAPAN
1. The Nuclear Menace—A New Sacrament for Humanity: Catastrophes and Near Misses Jean-Pierre Dupuy	19
2. World War II and the Victimary Era Eric Gans	41
3. Undifferentiation Reconsidered Anthony D. Traylor	55
4. A Reading of the Atomic Bombing of Nagasaki-Urakami with Nagai and Girard Yoko Irie Fayolle	66
PART 2. MIMETIC THEORY AND JAPANESE CULTURE
5. Girardian Structure and Dionysian Components Shoichiro Iwakiri	89
6. The Sacrifice of the Mediator: The Murder on Gifu's Sugou Plateau and Folk Performing Art Mizuho Kawasaki	106

7. Decadence and Conversion: On the Thought of Ango Sakaguchi 118
Kunio Nakahata
8. Living in a State of Abandonment: The Anime Vexille's
Supplementary Apocalypse 136
Andreas Oberprantacher
9. Subculture, Conformity, and Sacrifice: Kamikaze Girls
through a Mimetic Lens 149
Matthew Taylor

PART 3. MIMETIC THEORY AND THEOLOGY

10. Back to the Future: The Prophetic and the Apocalyptic in Jewish and Christian Settings 171
Sandor Goodhart
11. Reading the Antichrist Type: Christian Apocalyptic
Typology and Girardian Mimesis 186
Thomas Ryba
12. The Place of Mimesis and the Apocalyptic: Toward a Topology of the “Far and Near,” or Is René Girard
a Postmodernist? 215
Richard Schenk

CONCLUSION

13. The Drum, the Gaita, and the Desert: Thoughts on How to Approach Conflicts with Mimetic Theory 245 Mario Roberto Solarte Rodríguez and Mery Edith Rodríguez Arias
- List of Contributors 261
- Index 266