

---

237 SECTION TEN: THE WIDER WORLD

- 241 Maud Gonne and the Boer War
246 W.B. Yeats in America—interview: ‘We Are Unlike the English in All Except Language’
248 John Eglinton, Letter to Sir Horace Plunkett
253 Sir Horace Plunkett, Letter to John Eglinton
256 Arthur Griffith—from: ‘The Resurrection of Hungary’
258 Patrick Pearse—from: ‘Belgium and its Schools’
263 Rabindranath Tagore—from: The Post Office
265 Roger Casement, Human Rights
267 Eoin MacNeill, Imperialism

---

270 SECTION ELEVEN: EDUCATION, AND POPULAR CULTURE

- 275 Mary E.L. Butler—from: ‘Irish Women’s Education’
277 Maud Gonne, Children’s Treats
279 Percy French, ‘The Queen’s After-Dinner Speech’
282 Augusta Gregory, ‘The Boy-Deeds of Cuchulain’
285 Patrick Pearse—from: ‘The Murder Machine’
289 John E. Kennedy, ‘The Debate on National Dress’
291 Douglas Hyde, Irish Clothing
292 J.M. Synge—from: The Aran Islands
293 from: The Dun Emer Industries Prospectus
295 ‘An Feis Ceoil/An tOireachtas’
296 Patrick Pearse, ‘Óro ’Sé Do Bheatha Abhaile’
298 Jack Judge, ‘It’s A Long Way to Tipperary’
300 Percy French, ‘The Mountains of Mourne’
302 J. M. Synge, The Grief of the Keen
303 Dermot O’Byrne/Arnold Bax, Music in Ireland
305 W.B. Yeats, An Abbey School of Ballet

---

307 SECTION TWELVE: SOCIAL CONDITIONS

- 312 Maud Gonne—from: 'The Distress in the West'
314 J.M. Synge—from: 'The Inner Lands of Mayo'
316 Irish Homestead Competition
317 James Connolly—from: 'The Language Movement'
319 Sean O'Casey—from: Drums Under the Windows
322 from: 'The Great Revival: A Wave of Temperance'
325 Susanne R. Day—from: 'The Workhouse Child'
327 James Larkin—from: 'Larkin's Scathing Indictment of Dublin Sweaters'
329 James Joyce—from: A Portrait of the Artist as a Young Man
331 Padraic Colum—from: The Road Round Ireland

---

335 SECTION THIRTEEN: WOMEN AND CITIZENSHIP

- 340 Anna Parnell, 'The Journey'
342 Mary Hayden—from: 'Women Citizens—Their Duties and
Their Training'
346 James Connolly—from: 'The Reconquest of Ireland'
349 Hanna Sheehy Skeffington: 'Sinn Féin and Irishwomen'
352 Mary McSwiney—from: 'Suffragists and Home Rule: A Plea
for Common Sense'
355 Constance Markiewicz, 'Experiences of a Woman Patrol'
357 Constance Markiewicz—from: 'The Woman With a Garden'

---

358 SECTION FOURTEEN: A SOVEREIGN PEOPLE

- 362 William Rooney—from: 'The Development of the National Ideal'
364 Maud Gonne, 'The Famine Queen'
368 W.B. Yeats—from: 'Noble and Ignoble Loyalties'
370 J.M. Synge—from: 'Possible Remedies'
372 James Joyce—from: 'Home Rule Comes of Age'
373 John Redmond—from: 'Speech at Woodenbridge'
375 Patrick Pearse—from: 'The Separatist Idea'
377 James Connolly, 'The Irish Flag'
380 Sean O'Casey—from: The Story of Thomas Ashe

381	SECTION FIFTEEN: MILITARISM/MODERNISM
388	James Connolly— from : ‘Erin’s Hope’
392	Helena Molony— from : ‘National Activities’
396	Peadar Kearney— from : ‘The Soldiers’ Song’/‘Amhrán na bhFiann’
397	George Russell— from : ‘Physical Force in Literature’
399	John Frederick MacNeice, ‘On Refusing to Sign the Ulster Covenant’
401	Eoin MacNeill— from : ‘The North Began’
404	Francis Sheehy Skeffington, ‘The Writing on the Wall’
407	Diarmuid Coffey, The Ousting of Douglas Hyde from the Presidency of the Gaelic League, Dundalk
409	Patrick Pearse, Speech at the Grave of O’Donovan Rossa
412	Francis Sheehy Skeffington— from : ‘Ireland and the War’
416	Augustine Birrell— from : Things Past Redress
418	Sean (Joe) Keegan, The Countermanding Order
423	James Stephens— from : The Insurrection in Dublin
427	Louise Gavan Duffy, Kitchen Duty in the Post Office, Easter Week 1916
433	Father Aloysius Travers— from : Diary of Easter Week 1916
442	Monk Gibbon— from : Inglorious Soldier
444	W.B. Yeats: ‘Easter 1916’
447	Maud Gonne, Letter to W.B. Yeats, November 1916
449	Francis Ledwidge, ‘Lament for Thomas MacDonagh’
450	V.I. Lenin, Lessons from the Irish Rebellion
451	Joseph Mary Plunkett, ‘I See His Blood Upon the Rose’
452	Roger Casement— from : ‘Speech from the Dock’
454	C.S. Lewis, Trench War
455	George Russell, ‘To The Memory of Some I Knew Who Are Dead and Who Loved Ireland’
457	Canon Charles O’Neill, ‘The Foggy Dew’
459	George Russell, Two Comments

---

460 SECTION SIXTEEN: AFTER THE REVOLUTION

- 466 Colm Ó Gaora—from: Mise
467 Cumann na mBan Petition to President Wilson
469 Ernie O'Malley—from: On Another Man's Wound
472 from: 'The Strike at Limerick'
474 Henry Nevinson—from: 'Ireland: The One Solution'
477 Edward Carson, 'Sinn Féin Has Beaten You'
481 Elizabeth Burke-Plunkett, Into the Free State
483 Piaras Beaslaí, The Shooting of Michael Collins
484 Thomas Bodkin, 'Modern Irish Art'
486 George Russell, 'Reaction in Literature'
488 Elizabeth Burke-Plunkett, The Burning Party
491 Éamon de Valera, 'Legion of the Rearguard'
493 George Bernard Shaw, 'Safe Holidays in Ireland'
495 'The Civic Guard and the Pioneer Movement'
496 George Bernard Shaw—from: The Irish Statesman
- 498 Afterword by President Michael D. Higgins
- 503 Select Bibliography